April 2014

Dear Community, Teachers, Parents, Administrators, and Board Members,

On April 28th, at 4 pm, an anti-Cuomo rally and picketing will take place at Villa Lombardi's in Holbrook. Cuomo is scheduled to be the guest speaker and "honored" guest at the Suffolk County Democratic Committee Dinner that evening. We would like to have a huge turnout and make our voices heard loud and clear that enough is enough!

Not only is it important to make Cuomo aware of just how angry we are, but it is just as important to make all Democrats aware that they can no longer support his failed policies regarding education, as well as the 2% tax cap that is and will destroy public education. Many have used the excuse for some of their votes that "the Governor put a lot of pressure on us." It's time that we put pressure on them to do the right thing because our professions, our children, our students, and our communities depend on it.

Please join me and the rest of our brothers and sisters, community members, administrators, and board members at this rally. If you have any questions and/or ideas you care to share to make this rally a huge success, please feel free to call me.

In solidarity,

Tony
